Challenges for Testing...

Enable NZ's IT supports the business and it is not a Software house (with the exception of Web)

A focus in past on winning contacts for different funders (e.g. ACC) has led to multiple IT systems and varying degrees of customisation

Vendors carrying out the majority of testing with SIT and UAT being the focus of Enable's test effort.

No permanent dedicated Test resource in place prior to my starting in the role late 2024

Maturing the Test practice.

- Low documentation and appropriate levels of testing
- Shifting testing/quality to the left
- Increasing the engagement of end users in testing
- Getting testing engaged much earlier in change lifecycle
- Improve tracking of changes and control use of Test environments
- Develop a suitable Risk weighting of changes to enable effective mitigation and communication of Risk
